

About Us

Home Healthcare Software

Company Overview

Caretime is a Virginia based home healthcare software company providing innovative and cost effective web based IT solutions for Consumer Directed Services, Home and Community Based Care and Private Pay Agencies.

Founded in 2010 by Debra and Richard Ward, the company now serves thousands of users nationwide. Caretime has corporate offices in Richmond VA, and the Netherlands.

The company's experience in telephony and advanced IT solutions began with Mr. Ward in the early 1990's when he led the development of an in-house telephone timekeeping system. Based on Windows NT and Dialogic analog voice cards, this early telephony systems was implemented for his family-owned regional building service contracting firm. Later Mr. Ward was to join forces with entrepreneur, Brandon Fox in Chronotek where the Caretime model was birthed and seeded and began serving the home healthcare industry.

Caretime, through its seasoned and successful advisory board that included: Dr. Louis Rossiter, (former VA HHS director) Ken Cuccinelli (former Virginia attorney general), Craig Suro (real estate entrepreneur), Nick Pace (former Amerigroup executive), Cees Ravesteijn (M&A international lawyer and entrepreneur) and David Johnston (Google genius) the company developed its own proprietary IP and online strategic growth initiatives that have made Caretime a leader in innovation and value.

Executive Leadership:

Debra Ward, President and CEO
Rajiv Perera: Chief Information Officer
Arman Latif: Director of Technology, Operations
Richard Ward: VP Business Development
Craig R Suro: VP Strategic Alliances and Development
Muniraj Selvaram: Technical Analyst, Project Lead
Revathy Shanmugam: Technical Analyst, Programming Lead

US Corporate Offices
Office: 888-400-5048
www.caretime.us
804-402-4124

Netherlands Offices
Managing Director
Cees Ravesteijn
01-31-20-22-60-040